

Mr Koo

‘Why am I still not taller than the old tree stump!?’
he cried.

The third morning, Mr Koo walked to the farm. He saw Father Cow. He asked, ‘Father Cow! How can I grow as big as you?’ ‘I have a ‘tall bean’. If you eat it, you can be tall’, said Father Cow and gave him the ‘tall bean’.

A month later, he was taller than the old tree stump, but he was still only 35cm! He said, ‘At least I’m taller than the old tree stump.’

But twelve years later, a strange thing happened. Mr Koo did grow taller and taller. He was the tallest man in the town but he didn’t like his size, because... he was too tall! He yelled, ‘I don’t like my size!’
