

A decorative border of green clovers surrounds the text. The clovers are arranged in a slightly irregular pattern, with some larger and some smaller, creating a festive and natural frame.

Today I went to Happyland with my elder brother. We rode on the rollercoaster. It was so fast. I was excited riding on it. Some of the visitors played the booth games and won the prizes.

After that, we went to a restaurant. When we were having lunch there, we saw a little girl slip over and fall down carelessly. Unfortunately, her balloons flew away at the same time. She was in pain and cried loudly. I tried to comfort her and I felt pity for things happened to her.

Then, I went to buy a new balloon from a clown and gave it to her. It was because I hoped I could cheer her up. At last, she hugged me tightly and said thank you to me. I felt happy that I could bring back her back again. It was a meaningful day!
